

Can you see if there is a live power line here?

LiveTester Can!

In an emergency things are happening fast and dangers are everywhere. LiveTester is a fast, easy and accurate way to identify one of those dangers. It is a small, easy to use voltage detector which can tell you at the touch of a button if there are any hidden downed power lines or other sources of dangerous voltage before emergency and rescue personnel come into contact with them.

With a list price well below $500, the LiveTester may be one of your least costly and most valuable pieces of equipment.
